The Manager of the Weymouth & Braintree Publishing Co. the Subject of a Column Editorial.

In last week's issue of the Braistree Bec, ne of l'ratt Bras.' papers, the editorial donn was devoted to an article embayor article closed with the following words:

"Weymouth chizens will regret that the directors have decided to build the power stathen outside the bounds of our town, for they have had reason on think that it would be erected in Weymouth and naturally feel that the found that had not not have the compacy valuable franchises for about ten-twelfths of lise entire length of road should have the taxable properly of the road and it was an inderstood at the hearing when the franchise for Pleasent atreet was granted. There is the most could feeling toward the town of liraditrees and if Weymouth cannot have I we are glad that Braintree will. There must be very strong points of advantage in the East Braintree location to have oversome the sense of obligation that the director must feel nufler to build the power house in Weymouth.
"The points of difference in alvantage of the Braintree location are staired by Supt. Hrooks to he the set. Prize of four List Braintree leas than $1000., price of desirable what feel the Weymouth $5000. and asking their support upon the basis therein onlined, and from which I quote the following:

"We ask your attention to the proposed system of afrect reliways for the town of Weymouth as outlined on the opposite side of this sheet. The Itraintee and Weymouth Street Italiway Company have petitioned for locations from Weymouth Landing to South Weymouth and from Slaw's Corner, through East Weymouth village to South Weymouth. The Intended in the construct a circuit line connections to construct a circuit line connection to construct a circuit line connection in the construction of the construction of the literature depot with a single fare of 2 cents from any point in Weymouth on the circuit, to say other point and to the Ilraintree depot with a single fare of 2 cents from any point in Weymouth on the circuit, to say other point in Weymouth and the circuit and to the Ilraintree depot with a single fare of 2 cents from any point in Weymouth Aunting to the Ilraintree depot, but it is impossible, of contra, to settle these minor details at this time.

"The plan contemplates the probable construction of a power-house acone where within the town limits of Weymouth and also the construction of the car houses of the company within the limits of the same town. These properties, will be taxahis to the town, and therefore the carrying out of the plans of this rompany will bring in a romsderable addition to the town's taxable property."

Thus it will be seen that the people had reason to expect that if the valuable franchise of Pleasant street should be given to the lot & W. road instead of to the Q. & well as the location in Brainiree I ladleve that the carrying out of the understanding as to building in Weymonth is the right coarse. Just what sacrifices the B. & W. company ought to make to carry out its im-plied understandings as well as linkeyed fran-chises is a matter that rests wholly with the It rests entirely with the directors of the company and selectmen of Weymouth, and the Gazette will continue to gire all the facts it can obtain as the toatter progresses, giving the reasons of the B. & W. compeny for building in Braintree, should it are conclude, with the same fininess and fairness as it presents the town's side of the argencient. It is a business matter that about not be influenced by sentiment, and just how far the company is bound by what was argued as a "probable" ontcome of the granling of the franchise, I do not fool that it is my duty as a private citizen to decide

SCHOOL FUNDS.

Appropriations Insufficient Cause Overdraft.

About $4000. Needed to Pay All Bills April lat. This is what the Annual Re-port of the School Committee Will Show.

At the school committee's meeting he at East Weymouth Tuesday night the board had to wrestle with the financial problem of paying about $950, worth of bills that would accura between Jan. 1st and the end of the financial year, April 1and tin end or the manners year, April 183, with a cash balance and Jan. 1st of school appropriations of $5524.11.
This manifeshie problem will cause over-drafts on the school account amounting to about $4000.
This shortage is not the result of the past nonnia that have been tidbel over during than the town had appropriated.

The linerana to the cost of the schools for the past few years has been largely books, stationery, etc. shall be supplied by the town. This costs yearly about $8000. The town has visted many times that cer-tain acholics shall be transported free. This cost last year $2088.75. The tuwn voted a reise in the pay of teachers which has added some $200 or more to the has abled some $3000 or more to the unmal expense. The state hiws for heat-ng and centilating school buildings have arbitrary; and practically the unly bem of not in which the committee have any prorignity to save money for the town is opportunity to save inney for the own is the lieu of triplers, which hat your cost about $3000. This item of repairs covers, in addition to outside care of buildings such as painting, shingling, setting glass, etc., new sents, new blackboards, new furniture, new thors, and other tidings in the nature of permanent luprovements, and it is difficult to see how twenty school huiblings can be kept in repair and suphuildings cen be kept. In repair and sup-plied with the modern improvements that the uge demands for a sum much less then 2250 in $3009 per year.

The Item of tencher's salaries alone fools up to alout $31,000 a year, fuel nml junitors $1500 or more.

It is easily to be seen by anyone who will take the trouble to aligest the figures that the school system of Weymouth mus no coosiderably altered or that the town must increase its appropriations somewhat. Lest year the appropriation was $41,00. This year the committee will recommend an appropriation of $43,500 in addition to the sum necessary to make seed. the sum meessary to make good the over-drafts. Last yeer the Committee's esti-mate of the amount to be voted by the town wes $12,186.29 and in other recent years the estimates of the committee have leen reduced to about the same proportion As neerly all the school expenses are fixed cherges that cumot be changed with-out a reduction in their saleries, the schools cannot be mulntulned on the present lasts unless the joyn votes the necessary

Ms. Editor:
Will you kindly allow me space in your columns to tell Mr. Anti-Klek that if he will real the communication which has aroused his ire, he will discover that in-CARRIAGE PAINTING stead of kicking toe, he is kicking a man of straw, of his own construction. I said nothing concerning the difficulties of run-ning a street rallway or concerning women kissing each other. My remarks were of Missing each other. My relimits were all-direased at the lack of accommodations fur-nished us by the R. & W. Street Hallway. When Mr. Cook made his plea in behalf of this company at the Town house he completely ignored the first word, and all his argument was directed to the very grenlygutage to the Lamling and to Son Weymouth to be connected by the sam liee, and that has been the policy of th road. Now many those we want to vis our loving friends at the Landing, end it bard enough to have to pay len cents to go what is really about n mile and a half, without leding compelled to waste our time waiting on street corners for our connec-tion. Mr. Anti-Kick is no doubt much wiser than I am end undershands ell about running etreet rullways. He has exce lent opportunities for observation, and mube a director for all that I know. Still start lils car when a car on the Q. & D within one or two hundred feet conve-ing passengers who want to go to the Land ing, and it still scens to me to be a simple element of linsiness for a conductor to hole his car for a few seconds with a prospecs o picking up two or three feres.

Commaniments of Reddha.

All sets of living creatures become bad by tea things, and by avoiding the ten things they become good. There are three sins of the body, four sins of the fongoe, and three sins of the unful. The sins of the body are amunier, theft and adultery; of the longae, lying, slander, nhase and goesip; of the mind, envy, haired and error. Therefore I give you these commandments: these commandments: First, --Kill not, but have regard for Eighth.—Covet not nor envy, hal rejoice at the forimes of other people.

Ninth.—Cleanse your heart of malice and cherish no haired, not even against your enemies, but embrace all tiving beings with kludness.

Tenth.—Free your mind of ignorance and be anxions to learn the troth, expecially in the one thing that is needed, lest you fall a pray either to skepticism or to errors. Skepticism will make you indifferent and errors will lead you nairny, so that you will not find the noble path that lends to life eternal.—Gospel of Boddina.

Geese That Made an Eclipse.

"While I was out n honting frip nt Inmau, Kam., I saw n sight which few sportsmen have over seen," sahl Cook Herman. "Ooe night just as it wat growing desk oar party was lumling out a lake where we had been having good snecess with thek. Soldenly the sky seemed to be clouded over so that we secensed to be clouded over so that we thought a storu was coming up, but on looking to see what was the cause of the saiden darktees we discovered that immediately over us was a flight of wild geese which literally covered the sky for as far as the eye could reach. I do not believe I woold he exaggerating if I were to say that he geese in that flight were normbored by the thoosauls. For half an hear we watched them flying by, forming all sorts of jeturesque groops like maps in the sky, shifting rapidly from one conthination to another. They were flying just high enough to be out of genshof reach, but I managed to kill one tired singgler, which half fallee behind one of the high buches and ventored where he could be reached by a long shot. It was a sight which I shall never forget, and I am still regreting that we could not have got a crack at them. "—Kansas Cily Journal.

A Yanker-in-law The pedigree of the Grant family has been interesting people a good deal of late. Not long ugo a sort of coosinship, through their great-grandparents, wat traced between General Gruut and Jef ferron Davis. More laiely a writer in The Vermonter gave currency to the no-flon that Mrs. tirant was 'n daughter of Vermoot.' A Vermont editor wrote to Colenel Grant in New York for some aothentle information on this subject o his mother's hirthplace and he replied as followe:

My mother was born in St. Louis, Mo.; her father was born at Cumberland, Md., and let mother came from Pittebarg, Penn. Whoever gavn her birthplace as Vermost was mistaken.

My father's family, lowever, came from New Lagland, Mattiew Grant having settled at Windsor, Comn. in 1625, and the family remained there until my great-granulather, soos after the Revolutionary war, went to western Pennsylvania, where my granulather was born. Very truly yours. Finenemes D. Grastr.

So It appears that Mrs. Grant was not only not a dunghiter of Vermout, has not a New Englauder, except remotely by marriage—a Yunkee-iu-luw, so Mason,

"I must run up and tell Laulle, so she will not expect me," she said, and five minutes later the two girls were together once more. Them could hardly be a greater contrast than that which they presented as they stood together, looking expectantly at each other. Amy Triston was becaused as they stood together, form and a beautiful girl uearly perfect in form and feature, and possessing an indefinable grace and brilliancy which made her the light and life of a large circle of admiring light and life of a large circle of attmiring friends. Added to these charms she was kind-hearted and aff-ctionate, though at times, hasty in thought and judgment. Laura, on the other hand, was not even preity, yet hers was an intelligent and in-teresting face, and those who knew her hest never thought of her as being plain or pattractive. She was several years oblet by no one save the other.

"Well dearie, I think you will have to decide whether you love Harned sooner than you expected," said Laura, smiling, "and I think I would be safe enough in offering my congratulations and beatowing my blessing at once." "And you," asked her friend, with a quizzleal glance. "And her friend, with a quizzical guance. "And I," said Laura, carnestly, "and very, very happy, for Varley Bradford is the best and truest man I know, besides being one of handsomest, but it seems impossible that he should cars for one." "Nouscose, Laulie, ha shows his good tasts and sound cares by the choice." Laulie, ha shows his good tasts and annual erness by his choice," said Amy lovingly. That evening, Hal Mortiner's dashing turnous stopped at the Triscu cottage, and as Hal tucked Amy anugly in beside bloo, ha thought he teal never before realized ha thought he dual never belore realized how sweet and lovely she was, white she, looking into his houest eyes, with a shy yet trustful glance, knew that he was the one man in all the wide world to her. It was one of those glorious winter skeuinas which causes your blood to course rapidly through line veins, and young hearts to thrill with joyens auticipation of, they know not what, and it secured to the happy lovers, skimming so lightly over the dazzilog whiteness with the silver moon shining down upon them, like a journey into soma wondrous Fairyland, where they might forever be together, and where no periment in the construction, either in the itrack itself, the grand stand or the foot bell field.

The work on the track was started in the fall of last year and before the frost had gotten into the ground the foundation had been laid, so that there now remains but the laying of the upper surface and dressing to get the track liself reedy for practice work and also for the opening of the season of racing. The track will be 1-3 mile, eement, 35 feet on the home stretch and 25 feet on the hack. The hanking will be 7-12 feet to 8 feet. The corners will be lengthened and the stretch shattened, making it fit for racing and record breaking. It will combine the best points of 1c Waitham and Lonisville tracks, with inprovementa ever both. The upper dressing will be what is known as wired cement, similer to that in use on the flurdeaux track at Parla en which George Banker, an American won victuries from the leading prolessionals of Europe. This is the first time that this cement has been used in this cement. OUR OLD PEOPLE

Prominent in Every Village Enterprise.

Josish Reed, the son of Thomas S. and Cynthia (Show) Reed, was born April 18, 1830, in South Weymonth. He is a linest descendent of William Beed soil Ivis Ids wife who settled in Weymonth in 1833, being the eighth generation from William
1. William Reed was the first representative to the general court from Weymouth ofter its incorporation. Among the ancestors of Josish Beed were Cohned Thomas Heed win died in 1703, Capt. John Heed tors of Josiah Beed were Cohmel Thomas Reed who died in 1719, Capt. John Boed who served in the Havointionary war.

These carly successors were inspectors of better in Weymouth, et that time such officials being thosen by the town. Among the later generations wore Harvey and Quincy Reed, who established the first whichesele boot and shoe store in Boston. In last the family is probably the founder of the boot end shoe husiness of this country.

inglindustry has an early beginning, he working at the ago of nine at a bench by his letter's side in his since makers' sing. The whiter months, spent in the district school, served rather as a vacation than a a season of lebor. A service of severs years with Nathaniel Shaw & Co. was the utarket. He tunde a specialty of that trad for the nest fifteen years, and carried his lusiness up to a position of commercial standing widely known and nuiver elly raised to advocate this much needed im-provenient. Unmoved by threats, un-dainted by opposition, Mr. Reed pressed his point, goining slowly in support, until tu 1884, the motion to introduce water into the town was carried by a two-thirds vote. perty, ids influence has been ever felt. A stained worker in the Republican party ha has never felled to respond to a cell to duty. In cherities, his open head has been constantly bestowing its quiet and libersi gills. He was a descou in the Congregational church for over lorty years; is a lorner president in the sevings bank and on ea-vice-president of the First Netional bank of Weymouth.

OBITUARY:

John F. Smith. Mr. John F. Smith, one of the oldest and best known residents of this place, died Friday evening, after a long'lliness, aged they overran the appropriation and di-verted from other appropriations to make 73 years.

Mr. Smith was born a slave in Missisgoal these deficits.

The Herald Investigated the matter and The Hersdi investigated the matter and in a column editorial exposed the methods of the commissioners in several counties.

Of Norfolk County it is said the follows. Of Notaik County, what appears to be acceptally inwarrantside act on the part of the county commissioners has taken place. They were foliged under the law temake out last year, as they have this year, as they have this year, as the reporting and furnishing of the new court house initiality in about a source of arring and legitimate public complaint, the work having been carried on in a most -xirayagant manner, the item for repairing, furnishing and improving county buildings was proficially kept down to modest limits. When, however, the appropriation rame into their lands the county commissioners seem to laye found that some of the terms for down to make them. he has since resided, and up to within few months carried on the barbering basic ness. George flump then gave some of his la-teresting and difficult trick aclos on the many blue wholes, but had not the appliances to take them.

As I remarked at the infernational geographical coagress, we found few cents. They increased, however, in number as we worked eastward, and seemed afraid of the hand. All of the sents that we met on the shore showed unch uncasiness and speedily made for the water, a fact which atrengthened my being in the estatence of a large anja and harmonics.

Dancing followed until 12 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner of Hothrook providing me really excellent music. There wer about fifty comples on the floor.

The society cleared about $90 on the ### Commissioner Morrell Replies.

Mr. M. P. Mortell, the Chalrman of th missioners for Norfelk Count has made a repix to the criticism on tha actions of the board recently made by Judge Asa Fench, in which Jodge French expressed it as his opinion that the lusiness methods of the commission should be in-

"Judga French also makes complaint about the grantle curling put in around the court house lot. This curling was included in a clause in the contract with Mr. Wilem, the builder. Whether this was a good contract or not for the county may judged from the fact that the contraster paid more for the stone and the enting than he received for the entire job, which included a deep foundation of granite and the right whole at Compbell Island In the winter fime; the bonts fusiened to five of them, if which, however, only one was enught. Naw, to me it does not seem improbable that these whales go sauth to the bay of Victoria Land, where Russ anw them, in the nummer where lines age them, in the numer, and then return north in the winter. It would seem lacredible that a man of Sir Junes liose standing, supported as he was by nble scientists and experienced whalers, should have made a grave error when he said that this valuable whale was to be found in ossildo that the granite contractor may possible that the grante contractor may have had a little personal feeling on account of the eatra work that he was obliged to do by orders of the commissioners harder to fill his contract according to the specifications which he had signed.

"Mr. French is reported to have said in his interview that his 'examination proved some property of the property of the contract of the contractor large numbers in these southern lati-fules.

The difference in the appearance of his interview that his 'examination proved rather unplemant for the claiman, and on the second day of the hearing the commis-sioner refused to subject binnself to cross-examination.' The difficulty seemed to be with the Judge binnself, who did not realize that n hearing before a legislative commit-tee was not n Police court and nos where the custom did not permit of the buildezing that is usually practiced by criminal lawyers in that class of courts.

"Our critic, when he said that a number of citizens appeared before the committee on commy estimates to adject, when we asked for the money we needed last year forgets to add that for everyone who came tu criteizo theru were a dozen present i continend. Among these I am glad to be able to say there were such men as Jidin R. Bullerd, Hon. Elljah A. Morse, Daniel Brown, the Representative in the Legisla ture from Wrentham, J. L. Whittaker Heriert W. Furthermore, from the analysis o the expenditure in one department it has been transferred to mother department the specimen of rock which I brought when necessity required. A foot-troveler through one of the hilly regions of Ireland came one day upon a curious little calkin, so ansali as to seem hardly large caough for a human habitation. While ahe was whimalcally considering as to whether it might not be the abode of the famous "good people," about whom so many loving auperatitions cling, the figure of a short, about oil unan emerged from the cabin, and stood confronting her is smill gallence. After annutations lead been exchanged, the traveler laughingly told the old man that she ind half fancied his dwelling the home of fairies. "No, inlade, ma'ant, but it's a good warm place, God bires it," replied the old anan. "But surely you cannot stand up in it?" said the troveler, curiously. "An' fwhat ande to shtand, ma'an?" returned the owner of the tiny house. "Shure, an' Ol can come outside to do that same, an' whis Ol'm linsoide, it's mesilf that can eltier go to bed or ait down, ma'ami." There was such warmth in the smile with which this cheerful philosophy was propounded that be traveler was not disposed to pick flawain it, and smiled acceptance of its truth.—Youth's Companion.

SIR HERCULES ROBINSON.

Now that South Africa is in seriona trouble, it is hy no means improbable that one man in that country will be called upon to rearrange matters. This man is Sir tiercules Robinson, ex-governor of Cape Colony, and now chief commissioner of the Cape of Good Hope. Sir Hercules is n tried hand at settling disputes in the colonies of Great Bittain, and his success as a diplomat and egent in such matters during the past 36 years has won every possible honor, from the crown. In 1890, recognizing his great services as a preserver of Britlish power abroad, the queen made him a baronet. He was appointed to his present position in 1895. WHAT DO YOU THINK OF GLORIA?

About 4147 years ago, in Canaan, Reuben went to the wheat fields and galhered mandrakes for his mother, Leah. There is the same virtue in herbs now as then, giving vitality and strength. floria is compounded of the best herbs, and many a run-down, played-out, fugged dyspetite with a ruffled disposition has been cured and made angalic with the vitality of a boy. BY EBEN E. REXFORD.

This pilze wan to be a schelarshilt in one of the beat colleges in the country. John Darryll's heart gave a great thrill when the announcement was under regarding the nature of the prize to be given. If he cand only gain it lie was a poor boy. It had been hard work for him to complete the academy course. But by doing whalever he found to do, outside of school heurs, end patient, persistent etudy, he had succeeded in not only keeping up with his class, but in practically leading it. He was looked upon as the member of the graduating class who was meat likely to carry off the heners at the coming commencement.

He had not felt the spur of neceusity, ns had John Darryll, und the resuit was that he had become careless and lacked am-bition. He would go through school becares it was expected that one in his position would do no, but not because he cared very much about the educa-tion which n college course is supposed tion which a college course is supposed

He recognized the fact that is John Darry!! lo had a rival who was quite likely in entry off the honors of the class. He respected John, as did all care ubout the scl.oiarship as n schol-arship, hut it would gratify his pride to win it nway from his rival, and so he made up his mind to secure it if it were possible to do so.

"I suppose you're going to try for the prize?" he said to John ene day.

"Yes, I non," enswered John, frankly.
"You will, of course?"
"Certainly," responded Hobert. "And I mean to wiu. I give you fair warning

When he had done with his words of salutation and plunged into the oration proper it was noticed by the nudience that President Jackann's face nil at once took on a puzzled look. He seemed bewildered. Then the bewilderment seemed to give way to angry surprise, and many wondered why he looked at the upenker in that cold, stern way. Hebert Torrey's oration was, as Prof. Foy land unil, a very time thing, and it was well delivered. When it was ended the house rang wills applause and flowers fell upon the atage in a fragrant was well delivered. When it was enied the house rang with applause and flowers fell upon the atage in a fragrant whower.

Jahn Darryli listened to it with a sinking heart. Ho knew that his oration must seem crude and weak after such a musterly effort. The prize was lost. He felt that, but his disappointment did not prevent him from congratulating his classmate on his triumph, and liebert felt that he meant every word that be said. His face colered before John's honest glance, and be looked away in centraise that the other could not account for.

Jehn Darryli had the valedictory. He delivered it with simple, modest dignity that won admiration and uproval from all. Then his oretion began. He forgot all about the prize in its delivery. His fine fuce glowed with the enthusiasm of his theme. He was no lenger the contestant for a prize, but a yeang orator who felt the fire of lofty thoughts and an earnest belief in the truth and justice of the cause for which he plended. When he ended the room reng with applause again and his friends pelted him wills roseu all the way to his seat. President Jackson rose and came for ward.

John Darryil could burdly credit the evidence of his senses. Not to be con-sidered? Why? There must be some-thing wrong nonewhere. What was it? But President Jackson made no ex-planation of the reasons upon which his lustructions to the judges were based. All eyes were turned upon Robert Torrey inquiringly. He was very pale. There was no deubt where the prizo would go if Torrey's oretion was to be counted out. John realized that this meant victory for him. There was a mystery about it, hewever, that bewildered him. If the oretion washisrival's, why was it not to be considered? Could it be possible that it was not his?

The decision of the indees was reale.

The decision of the judges was made end hunded up to the president. He advanced to the front of the stage and read it to the mudience:

We have looked up the matter of Mr. A. J. Bichards' condidacy for like trusteeship of Tufts library. We presume that the town clerk is correct when he siales that the ward lines have not been changed and that Mr. Richards lives in Ward I, so called. We have no reason to doubt that this laso. But we dodoubt if there are any legal ward lines in Woymouth. The ward lines, so-called, were and ere the same as the old school district lines. They were adopted as as called ward lines. Iney were adopted as as called ward lines, probably by common consent or by a vote of thes flow many years back, but legally Weymouth has no wards and in our opinion, Mr. A. J. Richards is as legally eligible to the office of trusiee, he certainly deserves the reelection having been a very prominent and useful momber of the board since the organization of the

TIGER IN THE DAIRY. The King of the Jungle Disdains Stall-Fed Back

tee of a Thirsty Bull Whee the Big "Wonghed" to the Frightened Face-Locked Up After a Twn Days' Onling.

There was considerable excitement at Mysore, India, recently. One of the maharajah's tigers got loose and was not recaptured for over 48 hours. Al-lowing tigers and other wild animals to escape out of confinement seems n common events in Mysore. Daring the to escape out of confinement seems a common events in Mysore. Daring the time of the late undaragab oce gat out of his eage in the menagerie, and also doring his father's reign a tiger loaled all over the fort a whole day, going in and ont of people's hanses, but, strange to say, on more of these oceasions has anyone been injured.

The tiger in the present instance is one which is kept by his highness' dairy to keep away the "vell eye" from the cattle. Ho was netted for Lord Laasdowne to she it when his excellency visited Mysore on few years ago, and is a splendid brate. The dairy is a very large yard, with open sheds all round, in which the cattle are tied, the tiger's eage leding close to one rad and a fountin near the other. The tiger got out about seven p. in, and calmly n fountilin near the other. The tiger got out about seven p. in. and calmly strolled around, the place being full of cattle and people in the tine; but, fortunately, he had no desire whitever to tasto shall-fed beef, or liindoo either, although he passed within a few feet of the cowa and the men, and after examining them all quietly, lay down hy the fountain.

Even procedules a couple of alcohomite.

the fountain.

By nine o'clock a couple of elephnnts brought down the nets and a corden was run around the place, preventing the tiger escaping or getting at the cattle, when two rather musting incattle, when two rather musing incidenta occurred. A cow managed to get into the yard, and niter skipping about for some time rushed into a part of the net closest to the liger, and for some tima struggled most frantically ta get loose. Everyone fully expected the cow would have been killed. Finally, however, a number of men went out and held the wretched saimal down and removed the pet lightly was the and removed the net. Hardly was this over when a spiendid bull got over a part of the net which had fallen down,

THE THOER CALMLY STROLLER ABOUND and after careening about the yard just as the eow had done, rushed right up to the fountain and dipped his nose in the water. Evidently he had no iden the tiger was there ur he would never have water. Evidently he had no iden the tiger was there ur he would never have gone up in the eilye he did. However, after drinking, he looked up, when the tiger, who could not have been more than a few feet away, "woughed" in his face, and the way that hull went away sfier that did one's heart good to see. These were two grand opportunities for witaesaing "how the tiger acizes his prey," partienlarly as there were several sportsmen about, but unfortunate; by it was not to be.

After worrying the poor brute for two days and two nights, during which time he got into the netonec, he quietly walked into his eage and was shut up. The eool and indifferent way in which hassapall Urs' lossilized hunters, with their fearfully and woaderfully made lundooks, walk up and flow n pact the tiger was most amusing. What they would have done in the event of the tiger making for one of them it is hard to tell. The claws have grown into the pads of the tiger, and the wretched animal accms to be suffering great pain. Ilad it not been for this there would doubtless have been a vry different tale in tell.

The handsomest lunch clotbs are made of fine lineu and live a deep lord r of renaissance face. Doylies and buffet covers are also edged with the same beautiful lace. It washes well and is hundsome ne long as itiasts. The intest card cases and pocket-books are made from a leather that is ralled elephant's hide. It has rather a rough surfuce, and is of a light tan color. They are mounted at the corners in duit gold, or have a plain gold band around them, headed by n narrow beading.

New menu carde come in the form of fruits and vegetables, such as apples, pears, polutoes, encumbers and lemons. They are colored like the natural fruits, and the mrau is written on the underside. The cards are fastened to a plece of satia ribbon, on which is painted the name of the guest.
Funeral flowers are no loager all white, and set piecea are not desired.
Boxes of loose flowers are most often sent by friends, aithough small wreaths are still used, but have become so full that they are more like a round mat of flowers. At a recent funeral each member of a large family laid a wreath of violets on the mother's coffin. FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

Arizona was the first in the marke with this season's oranges, beating Cali fornia by a week or so. l'ersimmons are not enough ln de to cease raising them.

In the year 1596 there were only foar kinds of hyaclath, the single and the double hive, the purple and the violet.
At the present time there are many thousands of varieties.

More than 200 ear loads of oranges were shipped from Los Angeles, Cai, to the east the past season. It is stated that oranges have been shipped from Rivershie, Cal., during every month of 1805.

California's record of oranga ahipments this senson far anirpasses that of any other year. Up to December 18 last 460 car loads of oranges had been shipped cast from southern California, as compared with 18 car loads in 1894.

One of the most enthusiastic women horticulturista is Miss Alies Rotinschild, whose collection of roses alone is said to be worth $50,000. The archduke of Anstria owns flowers to the value of $200,000, and Sir Trevor Lawrence accilection at Dorking is worth over $250,000.

FINGER RINGS.

During the 14th century, in France and Spain, gifts of valuable rings to statues of the saints and Virgin Mary were very common. One statue in Barcelonn is said to have worn rings valued at $100,000.

etionn is said to have worn riugs valued int $100,000.

Pilgrim rings were formerly sold at every noted shrine in Christendom. They were purchased by pilgrims preparing to return home, and were regarded in evidence that the pilgrimage had been really performed.

The coronation ring of Great Britain is of gold, with n large and very valuable ruby setting. During the coronation ecremonica it is placed on the fourth flager of the sovereign by the Archbishop of Canterhury.

According to the traditions of the carly church, Joseph and Mary were espoused with an amethyst ring. This, by soma persona, is aupposed to be the reason why Episcopal rings were often set with the same stone.
